

Dan Brown

Design Finalist

International Competition

I am very pleased to announce my selection as one, of only six finalists from an international design competition run by Talenthouse.

The Judges:

Paloma Faith
Winner of 'Best Female Solo Artist Brit Award 2015.'

Rankin
World famous photographer.

Michael Stephens
Head of graphic design at Liberty London.

The Design

My intention was to include something to demonstrate my passion for brand identity, which is the reason for the design of a unique monogram, using the characters 'PF.'

When I listen to the voice of Paloma Faith it creates a sense of purity combined with controlled power. I have tried to reflect this within my final artwork.
